

WHY ISRAEL WILL INEVITABLY COLLAPSE

(Translated by Google Translate, without human control).

Is it really possible for Israel to collapse? Is the collapse of Israel merely a subjective desire, or are there factors that objectively lead to this outcome?

1) Why is the collapse of Israel inevitable ?

1) To facilitate understanding the possibility of the collapse of Israel in the future, it is advisable to rethink the model of the collapse of the former Soviet Union. Because the possible collapse of Israel will not necessarily be in the form of military defeat, but rather in the form of societal dissolution, relatively similar to the collapse of the Soviet Union.

Who among us, before 1989, would have predicted the collapse of the Soviet Union? No one in the whole world. We did not think about the possibility of the collapse of the Soviet Union, we did not imagine it, and we could not assume it would happen. If we had been asked, before 1989, about the possibility of this collapse occurring, we would have ridiculed the person asking this question. In fact, we may consider whoever asked this question almost foolish. Then the Soviet Union actually collapsed suddenly around the year 1990. What we thought was impossible became an established reality. The same thing, or something similar, will happen to Israel.

Today, most of the world does not imagine, even for a single moment, that the collapse of Israel is possible. Today, no one in the world says that Israel will collapse completely, or that it will disappear permanently. But tomorrow, in the not-too-distant future, the collapse of Israel will become a given event.

2) No force in the world can prevent, indefinitely, the collapse of Israel. And why? For several considerations. First, because Israel embodies the greatest camouflaged injustice in our modern history (against the people of Palestine, and against neighboring peoples). Secondly, because Israel contradicts human logic. And thirdly, because Israel is colonial, racist, imperialist, aggressive, and expansionist. These considerations are all essential, and should not be underestimated. This is what we will explain in this article.

3) According to a brief reading of the development of recent events in the world, the collapse of Israel is no longer just a possible development, but has become inevitable, in the not-so-distant future. How much time will this take? It may take a year, five years, or ten. I don't know. However, Western countries' support for Israel will not be able to save it from the fate of collapse. Just as the support of Western countries for South Africa (the past), which was built on the basis of racism, could not save it from collapse; Just as Western countries' support for the Nazi movements in Ukraine was unable to save it from collapse; Just as the conspiracy of the United States of America and Western countries, with the aim of overthrowing progressive or leftist governments in South American countries, or with the aim of replacing them with puppet governments, did not succeed for long. Etc.

4) There are many other factors that contribute to the occurrence of the collapse of Israel. Including, especially the escalation of Palestinian resistance, at various levels, fronts and axes. Among them is also the interconnection between the internal contradictions that move all the countries of the region (for example, between Saudi Arabia, the Emirates, and Iran). Among them is also the development of the balance of power between the progressive countries of the Middle East and its countries that are conservative, reactionary, or excessively dependent on Western imperialism. All of these elements contribute to the process of ripening the conditions for Israel's collapse.

5) In the past, wars between Israel and neighboring Arab countries would last over a few days. Because the "absolute strategic military superiority” provided and guaranteed by Western imperialism to Israel allowed it to quickly resolve these military battles in its favor. But the local resistance against Israel has become numerous, diverse, growing, and developing, to the point that Israel (and Western imperialism) is today unable to resolve these wars in a short time. Rather, the length of the war turned into a fatal weakness for Israel. Whenever Israel today opens a war on a specific front (such as Gaza in the year 2023), the war against Israel immediately erupts on other fronts (such as southern Lebanon, the West Bank, Iraq, Syria, and Yemen). The myth of the “invincible Israeli army” has become an army that is threatened with collapse if the armies of the imperialist Western countries do not intervene quickly to support it directly.

6) If the Palestinian, Lebanese, Syrian, Iraqi, Yemeni, and other resistances are able (or forced) to endure Israel’s devastating, repeated, and terrible strikes, then Israel’s advantage is that it is unable to endure painful, or continuous, strikes over the long term. . If the painful strikes directed at Israel multiply and continue, the Israeli entity will erode from within, disintegrate, then collapse, and may collapse completely if the war is prolonged. The experience of the recent war between NATO and Russia in Ukraine clearly shows that Western countries’ support for Ukraine (as well as Western countries’ support for Israel) tires relatively quickly, diminishes, and matures. B, then it stops, no matter how disastrous the results are due to stopping This support.

7) For example, in the current 2023 war in Gaza, and after this war entered its third month (as this article was being written), multiple, unexpected, and even destructive, developments appeared inside Israel. Among them, for example: counter-immigration (out of Israel), where the number of these Israeli immigrants (within a few days) exceeded half a million Israeli people; Among them is the expansion of the budget deficits of the various institutions of the State of Israel. Including the collapse of the Israeli currency, the shekel. Among them is the escalation of inflation; Among them is that an increasing number of Israeli economic activities are being hampered, or becoming almost paralyzed (for example, agriculture, industry, services, technologies, exports, etc.); Among them is the emergence and exacerbation of sharp contradictions among the various social groups that make up Israeli society. Including the flight of a number of settlers (more than 850 thousand people) whose settlements are located near areas of hot military clashes. Including the spread of demonstrations in support of the Palestinian people in many countries of the world. Among them is the collapse or disappearance of the legitimacy of Israel's existence among the residents of large areas of the world. Among them is that the old confidence in the founding values of Israel becomes subject to doubt, review, criticism, or rejection. Among them is the diminishing willingness of Israeli soldiers to sacrifice their lives in defense of the Zionist project. Among them is the escalation of anger of the families of the killed Israeli soldiers, the families of the wounded, the maimed, the prisoners, and the disappeared. Among them is the emergence and spread of severe psychological crises among an important part of the Israeli population, including the phenomenon of excessive drug consumption. Etc. These developments affect each other and can worsen with unexpected speed.

8) Although Israeli aircraft alone dominate the skies of the war over Gaza, and easily launch heavy and destructive explosives (about a thousand tons of explosives per day) at homes, residences, buildings, and infrastructure; Although Israel is destroying mosques, churches, schools, hospitals, electricity generators, workshops, and everything; Although the Palestinians are subjected to a war of displacement and extermination, in Gaza and the West Bank; Although the number of Palestinian deaths exceeded 20,000 dead and 55,000 wounded, nearly 75 days after the start of the Israeli counterattack; Although Israel quickly (and without justification) arrested more than 5,000 new Palestinian prisoners in the occupied West Bank; Although Israel shot and killed more than 300 Palestinian civilians in the West Bank during this short period (75 days); Although Israel only recognizes 153 dead and approximately 5,000 wounded among its soldiers (while the Palestinian resistance estimates the number of Israeli deaths at approximately 2,000 dead); Increasing numbers of observers (from inside and outside Israel) feel that Israel appears close to total collapse, while the Palestinians are increasingly insisting on resistance and sacrifice for the sake of their national liberation.

9) If Israel had not felt (after the attack on October 7, 2023) that it was beginning to collapse, it would not have requested urgent help from its allies, the imperialist Western countries; When the most powerful and diverse warships, American, English, French, German, Italian, and others, quickly rushed to the eastern Mediterranean Sea; When the Western countries quickly organized huge and urgent air bridges to transport fighters, experts, cadres, and various war supplies from the Western countries to Israel.

10) When some people think about the possibility of the collapse of Israel, they are unable to imagine this collapse except in the form of a military defeat, in a major war battle. This perception lacks a dialectical vision. Because the collapse of Israel does not result only from military battles, but also results from other things that are unseen, unusual, or unexpected. Because the collapse of Israel is not conditional on military superiority among the Palestinian resistance. Nor is it conditional on the ability of these Palestinian resistances to defeat Israel militarily, on the field of a huge classic war battle. And why ?

First, because the war of the Palestinians or Arabs against Israel is always a war against the alliance of imperialist Western countries. Because the struggle of the Palestinian resistance is, at its core, a struggle against the entire camp of Western imperialist countries.

Secondly, because Israel is practically a joint colony of all Western imperialist countries.

Thirdly, because the continued existence of Israel does not only require its military superiority, but also requires many other societal elements (there is limited space here to fully explain these societal elements).

Fourth, because it is preferable to imagine the collapse of Israel in the form of a societal process (political, economic, intellectual, military, cultural, and global). It is preferable to imagine the collapse of Israel as a process relatively similar to the collapse that occurred in the Soviet Union. Since the collapse of the Soviet Union did not result from a major military battle with the United States of America. Rather, the Soviet Union collapsed quietly, within decades, as a result of brewing internal contradictions. That is, the collapse of Israel will also be in the form of deep and continuous societal disintegration over the medium term. In other words, this collapse will occur within the Israeli entity in the form of a process of internal disintegration, deep erosion, and accelerating disintegration, in all fields and at all societal levels. The outcome of this process, when it becomes mature, is that everything inside Israel will stop working, or that its functioning will become impossible, compared to what it was in the past. Indeed, the operation of some community facilities inside Israel will become almost impossible. In the end, as the collapse process matures, there will be an acceleration in these societal phenomena. The people who make up it will flee from the Israeli entity, just as rats flee from a sinking ship. Thus, we will see successive groups fleeing from Israel, such as groups of soldiers, officers, intelligence personnel, politicians, cadres, technicians, investors, workers in banking institutions, researchers, settlers, producers, administrators, police, jailers, and workers. Dhibin, mercenaries, and opportunists And others. Every fleeing Israeli will have his own justifications. Foreign (i.e. non-Israeli) passports will become the escape card from the hell of Zionism. The ancient Israelis will compete to acquire citizenship rights in the United States of America, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and in some Western European countries, or even in Russia, etc. Many of the ancient Israelis will become happy to return to what is left of their families, and to their old real estate properties, in the countries of refuge, and they will return to their old bank accounts, and to their past economic activities, in Western countries (or in Russia).

Only that minority (of the ancient Israelis) will remain in Palestine that discovered the falsity of the Zionist ideology, voluntarily agreed to get rid of it, and accepted coexistence with their ancient “enemies” who are the Palestinians. Only that minority (of Israelis) will remain in Palestine that has accepted that citizenship rights in the new liberated Palestine (from the sea to the river) be equal among all citizens, regardless of their religion, worship, race, ethnicity, sect, or Their language, skin color, or beliefs.

11) As long as the Zionist Jews use methods of deception, deception, lying, and deception towards the victimized people of Palestine, and towards the general international community, they will necessarily use the same methods among themselves. As a result, the sharp contradictions between them will grow and worsen. Rather, those negative, outcast moral characteristics, which in the past fueled hatred of Jews, or justified their persecution, will once again become noticeable, or confirmed, in the behaviors of every individual or group that makes up this Zionist Israeli entity. Especially since members of Jewish groups tend to act with a tribal mentality, and with the mentality of an oppressed or outcast minority. They act like a secret political party. Some people's aversion to Zionist Jews will increase, due to their excessive use of methods of deception, deception, lying, or deception. The circle will close on itself in the field of outcast behaviours. As the popular proverb said: “As you kill, as you die” (meaning: “The means you use to kill your opponents are the same means you will be killed yourself”).

12) We will notice that the collapse of Israel on the one hand, and on the other hand the collapse of the United States' hegemony over the world, are two interconnected things. Because the acceleration in the maturation of each of them facilitates the maturation of the other. The defeat of America, and the defeat of the imperialist Western countries, in the Palestine conflict may be more resounding and influential than their defeat in the ongoing war in Ukraine, between NATO and Russia. In the past, that is, around the years 1950, the decline of the English Empire did not greatly affect its ally, Israel, because the decline of this allied English empire was paralleled by the growth of the new ally, which was the rising American empire. Today (in the year 2023), the decline of the United States' hegemony over the world can only be compensated for by the growth of the leadership that contradicted it, that is, Russia, China, and the BRICS group. Something that opens up horizons for unexpected developments.

13) Whenever Israel is defeated, in any battle, its defeat will, at the same time, be a defeat for the United States of America (and NATO). Also, any defeat for the United States of America (or NATO) will, at the same time, be a defeat for Israel. Also, the collapse of Israel, when it happens in the future, will be a major disaster for the United States of America (and NATO). But when Israel collapses in the future, the United States of America will have retreated relatively in terms of its dominance in the world.

14) Among other dialectical aspects of the conflict between Palestine and Israel, there is the following: In order for Israel to save itself from erosion, damage, and collapse, it has no choice but to crush Palestinian resistance. But Palestinian resistance is embedded within the Palestinian people, and cannot be separated from them. This is to the point that it is not possible to crush the Palestinian resistance without crushing, displacing, or exterminating the Palestinian people. The more Israel tried to crush the Palestinian people, the more the Palestinians' insistence on resistance grew. The more Israel annihilated the Palestinians, the more massive waves of denunciation and indignation rose across the world, denouncing Israel's crimes, Zionism, and its crimes against humanity. These massive demonstrations around the world demand a boycott of Israel, or its expulsion from international organizations. Thus, the justifications for criminalizing Israel multiply, and the factors for Israel's collapse increase. Increasing forces across the world will support the Palestinian resistance. The strength of this Palestinian resistance will grow, and the effectiveness of its struggle will increase. Israel gets the opposite of what it aspires to. In this dialectic, everything Israel does accelerates its collapse. Even if Israel does nothing, its failure will also accelerate its collapse. For all these reasons, the inevitable fate of Israel, no matter how long it takes, will be collapse and extinction.

15) To understand how Western media propaganda has been working, imagine now that you are a citizen of a specific country (in the “Third World”). Imagine that your country was invaded or colonized by foreign powers that possessed lethal military weapons. Imagine that you chose to participate in resisting external hegemony or foreign colonialism. Imagine that you carried out acts of resistance to colonialism. Imagine that you used stones, violence, weapons, explosives, or the like. In this case, what will the media of the colonial country and the general media of the imperialist Western countries say about you? They will say that you are a “terrorist,” that you are a “fascist,” and that you are a “barbarian.” They will allow your assassination, and they will kill you, your family, and your people. This is what they did, and this is what they will always do, towards the resistance in occupied Palestine, in Iraq, in Syria, in Lebanon, in Libya, and everywhere else. The imperialists always resort to persecuting the peoples of the “Third World”. The colonizers always resort to sentencing the colonized to displacement, ethnic cleansing, murder, or extermination. This is what happened in all colonized areas, including occupied Palestine. All the concepts that the imperialist powers use in their language describe their victims as criminals. It turns the oppressed into the oppressor.

16) Some may say that the thesis of “the inevitability of Israel’s collapse” is a biased thesis, or exaggerated, and that the Israelis will never abandon the project of occupying and settling Palestine. But if we look at what the Israelis are actually doing, we will find that these Israelis do not trust themselves in Israel’s future. And why? Because instead of Israelis having one nationality, which is the nationality of Israel, we find that more than 90 percent of Israelis insist, by all means, on obtaining multiple nationalities and multiple passports. Because every Israeli, with his usual skill, secretly thinks within himself, saying: “As a precaution, and in the event that the Israeli ship sinks, it is better to have a spare wheel, so that I can survive.” “Si.” This is conclusive evidence that most Israelis, deep down in their unconscious (inconscious), do not trust themselves in Israel’s future. They feel that the Israeli project is not viable.

They are always ready to become citizens of countries other than Israel, especially if these countries are strong and rich. They prefer to travel from one country to another, searching for opportunities to get rich easily and quickly.

17) The secret of Israel's collapse is that there are two stages in the history of the relationship between Israel and the Palestinians. During the first phase, the Palestinians were in a state of continuous strategic weakening (dynamique), while Israel was in a continuous state of strategic strengthening (renforcement). During this first phase, Israel was attacking and weakening the Palestinians with impunity and without consequences. But during the second and final historical stage, the opposite of what happened during the first stage occurs. Whereas, during this second phase, whenever Israel strikes the Palestinians, Israel weakens and quickly approaches its collapse. Even if Israel does nothing to weaken the Palestinians (during this second phase), Israel is also weakened, and continues to approach its collapse and extinction. This is the fate of Israel. It is impossible for Israel to escape its collapse. The inevitability of Israel's death was originally written in its nature. Israel's problem is not limited only to its illegal occupation of the West Bank and the Gaza Strip. Israel's problem is not limited to its evasion of the "two-state solution." Israel's problem is not limited to its reliance on invasion, occupation, oppression, and settlement. The problem is that the project of establishing Israel cannot be accomplished, nor can it exist, except through aggression, occupation, colonialism, oppression, ethnic cleansing, and genocides. The problem is also that the nature of Israel is that it is colonial, racist, and religious. The nature of Israel is inconsistent with reason, justice, and the law. Although some Arab countries accept "normalization" with Israel, it is impossible in concrete reality for Israel to coexist with the neighboring Muslim Arab peoples.

18) Taking into account all of the factors mentioned previously, I confirm that the elements that will lead to the collapse of Israel are of two types. The first type is of a military nature, and takes place on the fields of direct, visible military battles. The second type is of a deep societal nature, and takes place on levels that are not visible, imperceptible, unusual, or unexpected. These are the most important reasons for the inevitable collapse of Israel.

2) The justifications for the establishment of Israel are invalid

All the justifications used by the Zionists for the establishment of Israel are false and misleading. To understand this, it is sufficient to examine, albeit briefly, and from a historical perspective, while being careful to respect the accuracy of rationality, how the Zionist movement (as well as Western countries) justified the establishment of Israel.

In the past in European countries, and since the Middle Ages and its religious wars (between the church and the state), some citizens who embraced the Jewish religion were exposed to one degree or another of persecution, directed against them in their capacity as Jews. .

When the Nazi movement came to political power in Germany in 1933, its excessive enthusiasm in everything prompted it to transform that ancient, anti-Jewish persecution into a systematic process of getting rid of the Jews. The Nazi political authority in Germany entered into an attempt to exterminate the Jews. The German Nazis organized a Holocaust for the Jews (but not a Holocaust for the Jews alone, as the Zionists claim, but rather a Holocaust for all types of people whom the German Nazis hated, including communists, socialists, and gypsies. , homosexuals, etc.).

The Europeans called the persecution of the Jews “anti-Semitism.” They called the attempt to exterminate a portion of the Jews by the German Nazis “the Holocaust,” or “Shoah.”

After the Nazis were defeated in World War II in 1945, a Jewish Zionist movement arose and claimed that “the solution to avoid the persecution of the Jews in the future is to create a new homeland for the Jews in a specific English colony” (Palestine), among the colonies that were Exist At that time in the world. The imperialism that dominated the world at that time (the colonial English empire) immediately supported this Zionist solution.

However, let us now ask: From the point of view of rational logic, is it true that “the solution to stop the persecution of Jewish citizens in European countries is to create a special homeland for Jews alone in a specific colony”? No, this thinking (the justification for the creation of Israel) was wrong in its origin, flawed in its foundations, guilty in its content, and corrupt in its logic. It is wrong thinking, indeed it is misleading. And why? Because reason (and justice) required that the solution (to the problem of the persecution of the Jews) be the struggle of these Jews, and the struggle of all other non-Jewish citizens, with the aim of establishing and implementing laws that guarantee “democracy” and achieve “human rights,” for the benefit of all citizens, regardless of Looking at Their religions, ethnicities, sects, beliefs, languages, skin colors, etc. Because the presence of manifestations of “persecution of the Jews,” or “anti-Semitism,” in European countries, its logical solution was to establish and respect laws that guarantee “human rights” and “equality among all citizens,” without any discrimination on the basis of religion. It was not reasonable for the solution to the problem of the persecution of the Jews to be “the creation of a new homeland for the Jews in a specific English colony” (Palestine). Just as the solution to guarantee the rights of the gypsies (gitans) in Europe, or the solution to guarantee the rights of blacks in America, or the Rohingya population in Birmingham, or the Uyghur population in China, or similar groups, was not “creating A homeland of their own One of the colonies.” Especially since, if the Western countries were truly aware of their previous mistakes, manifested in the persecution of the Jews, and if they were truly committed to respecting “human rights,” resorting to “creating a new homeland for Palestine Hud alone” becomes unjustified.

This is at the level of European countries. As for the Jewish people in European countries, the logical solution (which should have emerged in their minds) was to remain in their original European homelands and engage in political and democratic struggles, with the aim of imposing the establishment of laws that guarantee “democracy” and “human rights,” and abolish All forms of discrimination among citizens on the basis of religion.

If you accept the (Zionist) idea that says (since 1945): “To avoid persecution of the Jews in Western countries, these Jews must live in a homeland (Palestine) designated for Jews only,” then you must accept, by the same logic, that Christians live separately among themselves. In a country designated for Christians only; The same is true for Muslims; And for Sikhs; And for the pagans; And for the spiritual; And for the non-religious; And for all other types of religions. Do you now see the scenario to which this (Zionist) logic leads us? It is a global separation of peoples on the basis of religion! Not only is this a terrible and intolerable thing, but it leads us directly into religious wars, as was the case in the Middle Ages. No rational person would accept such a choice. Because reason requires: democratization, the separation of religion and politics, as well as the separation of religion and the state.

That previous solution is the same old illusion that is repeated, which claims that “if we come together, and if we live among ourselves, without strangers or foreigners mixing with us, then all our issues will be resolved.” Have a good morning! It is the same familial illusion, or tribal illusion, which believes that “all of society’s intractable problems come from people who are different from us.”

In addition to what was previously presented, Zionism and the project of building Israel are based together on the foundation of the Jewish religion. All Western imperialist countries consider the building of Zionism, or the building of Israel, on the basis of the Jewish religion to be a natural matter. This confusion between politics and religion, or the exploitation of religion in politics, is acceptable to them. Even if this mixing between religion and politics leads to serious political deviations. But as soon as the Palestinians do the same thing, that is, as soon as the Palestinian resistance is organized on the basis of the Islamic religion (such as Hamas, Islamic Jihad, etc.), all Western media immediately chant: “These are Palestinian Islamic resisters, that is, this is an order.” Very dangerous ! They are fascists! Because Islam awakens in Western countries buried fears, or ancient hatred, dating back to the Crusades in the Middle Ages.

Accordingly, if the Jews of European countries chose, and if European countries also chose, the solution of “creating a new homeland for the Jews,” this choice means: First, that the Jews of European countries did not have confidence in the possibility of “democratization.” European countries. They did not trust the possibility of Western countries committing not to persecute Jews in the future. Secondly, this choice means that the European countries themselves were not confident in the possibility of their commitment to respecting the laws of “democracy” and “human rights” towards their Jewish citizens. Thirdly, this choice means that the Western countries also secretly wanted to completely, or permanently, get rid of the Jews within their borders, by gathering them in a “homeland of their own,” far from Europe. Fourthly, this choice means that, as long as Western countries agree to the existence of a “special homeland for the Jews,” this agreement is an argument for the continued existence of a secret hatred among Western countries toward the Jews. Because, if Western countries truly loved, or were truly committed to, equality among all their citizens, without regard to their religions, ethnicities, sects, etc., these Western countries would not have agreed to give up Of its citizens who profess the Jewish religion.

The solution accepted by the Zionist Jews, and accepted by Western countries, prompts us to ask the following question: What is the relationship of the Palestinians to the persecution of the Jews in European countries? If Western countries are persecuting their Jewish citizens, why is the solution to take revenge on the Palestinians, colonize their homeland, displace them, or exterminate them? Who should have paid the price for the persecution of the Jews in European countries: the Palestinians or the European countries? Aren't these Zionist Jews cowards, opportunists, and alienators (aliénés)? These Zionist Jews had to confront the citizens and institutions of European countries, who were persecuting them. They had to struggle to establish and implement “democratic” laws, and to impose full respect for “human rights,” for the benefit of all citizens, without discrimination. As for the attack on the Palestinian people, who are far away, weak, and innocent of the persecution of the Jews in Europe, it is a cowardly, deceptive act, and outside of the topic in question. As the popular proverb says: “The minaret of the mosque collapsed, so they hanged the barber.” This proverb means: “There is no relationship between this and that.” Anyone who insists on addressing the persecution of the Jews in European countries by colonizing the homeland of Palestine is committing unreasonable arbitrariness and contrary to justice.

The choice to “create a new homeland exclusively for the Jews,” in a specific English colony (Palestine), may have other goals that are secret, undeclared, and contrary to the justifications that were presented publicly. Among these secret goals is creating an advanced military base in the Middle East. The purpose of this rule is to compete with Arab countries in exploiting oil and gas wells in the Middle East, and to remove some of these countries and compensate them. This secret goal may be confirmed by Israel (and its supporters) recently attempting to exploit gas and oil fields located on the shores of occupied Palestine. Some say that the reserves of these fields are enormous. This is also confirmed by Israel's use of its agents in Iraqi Kurdistan to steal oil from the wells of Syria and Iraq.

What is the meaning of the previously displayed items? It means that all justifications for creating the Israeli entity are false and misleading. Everything that is built on a false foundation is also false.

3) The invalidity of the foundations of Zionist ideology

The intellectual foundation on which the project of creating Israel was built is the Zionist ideology. The foundations of this ideology are all wrong. There is not even a single shred of rationality in this Zionist ideology. This Zionist ideology consists of naïve beliefs, most notably the following:

- The “Jewish people” thesis: This alleged “Jewish people” does not exist, and cannot exist. Just as there is no “Christian people,” “Muslim people,” “Hindu people,” or anything else. Anyone who uses the phrase “the Jewish people” is under the influence of Zionist propaganda. What exists in the countries of the world are “Jewish citizens,” “Christian citizens,” “Muslim citizens,” non-religious citizens, etc. These different types of citizens are found and mixed in 193 countries (members of the United Nations Organization (ONU)). Why does the Zionist movement (and the State of Israel) insist on talking about the “Jewish people” and the “Jewish state”? Because it wants to monopolize the representation of all Jews in the world. While no country in the world has the right to claim that it represents adherents of any specific religion in the world. And why? Because different types of religious (and non-religious) citizens are found (and they are mixed) in most countries of the world. Persons professing any specific religion have not, and will not, authorize any specific state to speak on their behalf.

- The “Jewish State” thesis: Talking about the “Jewish State” is a manifestation of the exploitation of religion in the field of politics. While the “state” is radically different from “religion” (whether this religion is Judaism, Christianity, Islam, or any other religion). Rather, “the state” contradicts “religion.” The “state” is merely organs, institutions, societal relations, relations of sovereignty and submission, etc. As for “religion,” it is beliefs, sanctities, worship, rituals, customs, etc. The “state” cannot be a “Jewish state,” a “Christian state,” or a “Muslim state.” The insistence on transforming the “state” into a “religious state” is an attempt to transform the “state” into a kind of compulsory “church,” which the “state” wants to impose on all citizens. Israel wants to be “the sole legitimate representative of all Jews in the world,” and this claim is an unjust slander and is rejected. Increasing numbers of Jews (non-Zionists) in the world refuse to let the “State of Israel” act in their name.

- The thesis of the “Jewish people chosen” or “favored” by God: that is, the people whom God “prefers” over all the peoples of the world. This thesis is a slander and a lie against God and humanity. Because it is inconceivable for God to stoop to the level of maneuvering with a human group against other groups. Because there is no rational justification for preferring one human group over another, except for the selfishness or arrogance of people who claim to be “favored” by God.

- The thesis of “the land promised by God”: This is also a slander and a lie against God and against humans. Because God does not interfere in human affairs. There is no evidence that God discriminates among human groups. God does not distribute gifts to human groups at the expense of other groups. God does not interfere in the field of arbitration, or management, of real estate properties disputed among humans.

- The thesis: “A land without a people, for a people without a land”: It is also a shameless lie. Its goal is to justify the colonization of Palestine. The Zionists claim that the Palestinian people do not exist, and they claim that the land of Palestine was empty when it was occupied and colonized by the Zionist Jews in the years 1948. They deny history, and deny the existence of the Palestinian resistance that they encountered. It is as if this Palestinian people fell from the sky, later, immediately after the end of the occupation and colonization of Palestine. This is a common lie among the colonialists.

- The thesis: “The Holocaust is the greatest crime in human history”: This is a lie that can only be justified by the excessive selfishness of Zionist Jews. Because the terrible crimes committed in human history are many. No human being is able to rationally determine which is the most painful or horrific crime in human history. Because every victim claims that the crime she was subjected to is “the greatest crime in the history of humanity.” While the persecution imposed by the Zionists on the Palestinians is clearly more than the “Holocaust.”

- Etc.

This Zionist ideology is a colonial, racist, imperialist, simple, and naive system of thought. Rather, she is excessively selfish, opportunistic, and arrogant, to the point that the only clear, appropriate description of her quality is that she is “dull.” This description is not an insult, but rather an objective political description. Contrary to the myth that claims that “the Jewish people” are “a people of geniuses,” and contrary to what the majority of Zionist Jews think about themselves, we see that this Zionist ideology is absurd. Misleading, even stupid. We realize that people who adopt this Zionist ideology are unprincipled, selfish, arrogant, or opportunists.

Every person in his right mind, if he were acquainted with the content of this Zionist ideology, would automatically tell you that the inevitable outcome for people who believe in this ideology will be failure and bankruptcy. If you answer this person that Israel is a real reality, stable, controlling, and subjugating, and existing on earth, this rational person may answer you that, no matter how strong Israel is temporarily, and no matter how long its story, the inevitable outcome of this Israeli entity will be complete collapse. Because what is built on falsehood will itself be false.

4) The secret in Israel's control over Western countries

Despite the backwardness of Zionist ideology, and despite its political stupidity, we note with amazement that the Zionist movement was able to have a strong influence, to the extent of relative control, in the media, in culture, in financial institutions, and in governments, in the United States, Lycia, the United Kingdom, Belgium, and Switzerland Canada, Australia, and most European countries.

The influence of Israeli intelligence has strengthened to the point that if any media worker in Western countries criticizes Israel or denounces Zionist theses, he is inevitably marginalized, isolated, separated, deported, or expelled. In fact, it has become almost impossible for any person nominated for the position of prime minister, for a ministerial position, or for the leadership of any important institution, to succeed in the elections if he is not a supporter of Israel, or if he is not supportive of Zionist theses.

In France, for example, the case of the comedian Dieudonné M'bala has become an expressive symbol of the power of the Zionist lobby's influence. The Zionist movement fought him until judicial and governmental decisions were issued that completely and permanently prevented him from appearing in the media, in theaters, films, and the like. The reason is that the comedian Dio Donnie criticized Israel and Zionism. In several Western countries, such as France, Switzerland, Belgium, and Canada, Zionist judges convicted him on charges such as: “incitement to discrimination, hatred of Jews, incitement to racial or religious violence, racial insult, denial of the Holocaust, or calling for Terrorism! Because Israeli Zionists consider criticism of Israel’s policies a manifestation of “racist hatred against Jews”! In other words, either you let the Zionists colonize as they want, or they will accuse you of “racist hatred against the Jews”!

In the United States of America, it has become a recurring and exasperating custom that every presidential candidate is forced to declare his loyalty to Israel and his support for Zionism, otherwise the powerful media propaganda will ensure that he is fought and that he fails in the election campaigns. Yes.

How was the Zionist movement able to pollute the minds of many citizens of the world, and influence the entire world with such power ?

The secret that explains this amazing effect is what the Jewish anti-Zionist activist, Jacob Cohen, explained in some of his books and lectures (despite the terrorist attacks carried out against him by Israeli Mossad agents to silence him). He explained that the Israeli intelligence force is built on the basis of a vast army of “Zayanim.” In the Hebrew language, the word “Zyanim” is the plural of the word “Zyan.” The “maintaining” person is the one who helps, helps, or supports. Jacob Cohen explained that every Jewish person in the world, no matter what country he is in, and no matter what institution he works in, turns automatically and voluntarily into a “guardian,” that is, into an assistant, or a secret agent, recruited and disciplined, to serve Israel. And to implement Orders of its intelligence institutions. This reveals that the majority of Zionist Jews refuse to integrate into the countries in which they live, and remain loyal above all to the State of Israel. The entire Zionist movement is subject to and disciplined by the directives of the Israeli intelligence agencies (Mossad [external], Shin Bet, or Shin Bet [internal], Security [military], etc.). And every institution in the world in which there are Jews who sympathize with Israel, or with Zionism, Israeli intelligence becomes able to infiltrate within it, to influence it, and to employ it to serve Israel's goals. Thus, Israel was able to recruit all the Zionist Jewish people in the world and turn them into secret agents who obey the orders of the Israeli intelligence services. Every institution that is controlled becomes itself a means of controlling other institutions. Israel was able to secretly influence many diverse institutions in the world. There are few responsible people in the world who are able to oppose, criticize, or challenge Israel.

5) Do the imperialist states really need the existence of Israel ?

During the analysis and criticism of the Zionist ideology, the following question immediately comes to mind: If the Zionist project is criminal (i.e., it involves injustice against the colonized Palestinian people), and if the Zionist ideology is truly a foolish ideology, then how was it possible to Build it on a large scale across the world? How could it be defended? How was it possible to spend on it without accounting, over a period of more than 75 years, by the most powerful imperialist countries in the world? Why did all these Western countries, which support Israel, fall into the trap of participating in supporting a criminal, foolish project that is doomed to inevitable bankruptcy? This is a very important question.

The secret to answering this fundamental question is what Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels taught us. It is that the follies committed by capitalists and imperialists have no limits. Rather, it is possible for the imperialists and capitalists to lead the entire world to massacres and comprehensive disasters, without their human conscience being awakened.

But what is also strange, and contrary to widely spread opinions, is that the imperialists and capitalists do not need the presence of Israel to serve their basic material interests in the Middle East, or in various regions of the world. Because during the process of exporting their industrial products, services and financial services, and during the investment of their capital in various countries of the world, and during the establishment of branches of their companies there, and during the return of their profits to their original countries, the capitalists and the imperialists The Jews do not need the existence of Israel. Likewise, the dominance of the Western imperialist countries over the Arab oil states in the Middle East, the manipulation of some of their rulers, and the plundering of their wealth, was and still is possible, even easy, and does not require at all the presence of Israel in the Middle East.

In fact, the opposite may be true. That is, the capitalist Zionist Jews are the ones who need to implicate all Western capitalist and imperialist countries in comprehensive and unlimited support for the project of establishing this Israeli entity. Especially since the main justification for the creation of Israel was, in the beginning, “the creation of a special homeland for the Jews, so that they would not again be exposed to persecution similar to the persecution they suffered from in the countries of Europe.”

6) The results of Israel's existence

What are the results of Israel's existence today? Among its results is that the Israeli Zionist Jews practice persecution against the Palestinians greater and more violent than the persecution that the Jews in European countries were suffering from. That is, the Jews turned against them. Thus, the victim turned into a criminal. Marxists call this phenomenon in dialectics “the law of the transformation of one thing into its opposite.” Where the Zionist Jews turned into semi-Nazis. Today, the Palestinians are more tortured than the Jews were in Nazi Germany.

Among its results also is that Israel, the Zionists, and their supporters are trying to exterminate the Palestinians, just as the German Nazis were trying to exterminate the Jews through the Holocaust. If the attempt to exterminate the Jews in Europe, by the German Nazis, was considered a crime rejected by Western countries, how is it possible that today the extermination of the Palestinians (and ethnic cleansing, and the displacement of the rest of them) is completely accepted by Western countries? , with the aim of achieving the Zionist colonial project in Palestine The occupier? Were Western countries lying when they lamented the attempt to exterminate the Jews? Are the imperialist Western countries alienated (aliénés), politically backward, or morally crumbling, to the point that they do not see, are not aware of, or are not aware of, the ongoing attempt to exterminate the Palestinians? Do Palestinians need to die in the millions, and not in the tens of thousands, in order for the consciences of officials in Western countries to be awakened? What is the conclusion from that ?

7) Partial summary

The minimum conclusion is that the solution that the Zionist movement came up with is merely political stupidity, injustice, and racist deviation, and those who are fascinated by the selfish privileges of colonialism. Anyone who supports an unjust and stupid project is unjust and stupid himself.

Thus, there are many contradictions and injustices in Zionist ideology and in the project of creating Israel. Therefore, their inevitable outcome will be failure, collapse, and bankruptcy.
